Save for retirement without increasing your current taxes.

A SEP-IRA lets you invest with no hassle and no immediate impact on your taxes. Also, any growth in your account is tax-deferred until you make a withdrawal. If you are in a lower tax bracket when you make the withdrawal typically in retirement, it could be taxed at a lower rate than what you pay now.

The chart below shows how tax-deferred compounding can work. You can see that $100 per month invested in a SEP-IRA earning 7% grew to $52,000 after 20 years, while a taxable account yielded just $44,000.*

Keep in mind that withdrawals from your SEP-IRA prior to age 59½ may be subject to a 10% additional tax for early distribution. Exceptions to this additional tax may apply if you're disabled, taking annual payments spread in equal amounts over your life expectancy, making a first-time home purchase (up to $10,000), paying for deductible medical expenses, or paying for certain higher education expenses. Additional exceptions may apply; consult your tax or legal professional for details.

Taxable vs. Tax-Deferred Growth Over 20 Years

*This is for illustrative purposes only and should not be considered representative of the returns of any of the investment options in your plan. These amounts assume a contribution of $100 per month for 20 years and a 7% annual rate of return, compounded monthly. The taxable account is taxed at 20%, and taxes are deducted monthly. Money in the tax-deferred account is taxed when it is withdrawn. Consider your personal investment horizon and income tax brackets, both current and anticipated, when making an investment decision.

YOUR OPTIONS FOR RETIREMENT INVESTING.

Investment for retirement with a diversified fund series.

If you want a portfolio that automatically adjusts over time, you may want to consider investing in a pre-assembled T. Rowe Price target date fund that provides a diversified portfolio to—and through—retirement.

We offer three distinct types of T. Rowe Price target date funds:

Retirement Funds

Retirement Funds are designed to provide you with an age-based diversified portfolio that you can carry to and through retirement—making them a one-stop approach to retirement investing. The Retirement Funds offer higher potential long-term growth and volatility by maintaining an emphasis on stocks before and after the target retirement date.

Target Funds

Target Funds seek to reduce volatility as you near retirement and may better support withdrawals over a shorter time period. These funds offer lower volatility and lower potential long-term growth by emphasizing bonds near the target date.

Retirement Blend Funds

Retirement Blend Funds leverage a substantially similar investment structure as our Retirement series, but with an increased use of passively managed underlying holdings to achieve lower fees. They are designed for those clients who are focused on growth for retirement but who place a greater emphasis on overall cost.

The visual on page 6 shows the distinct characteristics of these fund series and how they progress over time. For more information on these funds, visit troweprice.com/targetdatefunds.

Comparing asset allocations for our target date funds.

*This chart shows the neutral allocations for the funds as of 2022. The allocation for each fund may vary from the long-term neutral allocation. Call 1-800-541-8803 for the most current asset allocation.

The principal value of the Retirement Funds, Retirement Blend Funds, and Target Funds (collectively, the “target date funds”) is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the target date, which is the approximate year an investor plans to retire (assumed to be age 65) and likely stop making new investments in the fund. If an investor plans to retire significantly earlier or later than age 65, the funds may not be an appropriate investment even if the investor is retiring on or near the target date. The target date funds’ allocations among a broad range of underlying T. Rowe Price stock and bond funds will change over time. The Retirement Funds and Retirement Blend Funds emphasize potential capital appreciation during the early phases of retirement asset accumulation, balance the need for appreciation with the need for income as retirement approaches, and focus on supporting an income stream over a long-term retirement withdrawal horizon.

The Target Funds emphasize asset accumulation prior to retirement, balance the need for reduced market risk and income as retirement approaches, and focus on supporting an income stream over a moderate postretirement withdrawal horizon. The target date funds are not designed for a lump-sum redemption at the target date and do not guarantee a particular level of income. The key difference between the Retirement Funds/Retirement Blend Funds and the Target Funds is the overall allocation to equity; although they each maintain significant allocations to equities both prior to and after the target date, the Retirement Funds/Retirement Blend Funds maintain a higher equity allocation, which can result in greater volatility over shorter time horizons.
